THEATRES

Both theatres boast a variety of audio visual options to suit a wide range of conferences, seminars, lectures or corporate events.

Both include an entrance foyer with private registration desk, featuring power-points, WIFI access and telephone.

The stage in each theatre is fitted with a lectern which incorporates a touch screen AMX panel to give speakers simple and trouble free control of the lighting, audio and projection.

The lectern also features a built in DVD player and microphone.

Both theatres include integrated audio systems with inputs from both the lectern computer and an external input for use with laptops. The system features ceiling mounted speakers across the length of the auditorium ensuring the audio is carried clearly and evenly to all delegates.

The Cockcroft and Weston theatres both have a number of microphones (both wired and wireless) included for voice enhancement and a built in hearing loop system.

If you are filming your conference or event, we can take an audio feed directly from our sound desks to the cameras, allowing them to capture the clearest possible sound without the complications of additional microphones.

AV TECHNICIAN

We have an experienced team of onsite technicians to provide support to all conferences. We can also provide a dedicated technician for the duration of your conference. Whether in the theatres or one of the conference rooms, our technician can be with you for the whole day to handle the set up and operation of all equipment allowing you to concentrate on the day's events.
